Koji Ito: Entered the department of engineering in Nihon University. Quit before the graduation. Presently a producer, a web designer, and a musician. After the establishment of Kinotrope Inc. in 1995 and IMG SRC,INC. in 1998, took part in several projects creating web sites. Also an administrator of Web Design ML and a secretary of Web Design Consortium. Now also writing a book called "Web Design Bible."

Comment: I proposed this Project in the first place. In the near future, we are planning to expand the Project and create various exciting products. Anybody who are interested in cooperating with us, please give us a contact.

Hiroaki Teraoka: Entered graduate school of Media And Governance (in term of the Master degree). My interest is to find out how to relate an individual creative environment with WWW grand design. In Crosshead Inc., I've directed several web projects. Love dance and literature. 22 years old.

Comment: I joined this project as an assistant programmer (mostly as a visual adviser.) Keep your Net Rezonator open while doing other things: a sound might come out all of a sudden (it gives me a little bit of satisfaction when I hear this): I recommend this to enjoy our Net Rezonator. Special thanks to Fumiko Ichikawa in english translation.

Yuusuke Karasawa: Entered the department of information and environment in Keio University. Though an applicant of architect, I'm on register seminar of Kazuya Fukuda (critic of literature). In university, I study the design of architectures in the age of information, and plan, design, program many contents on the net. Recently, I've designed the website of Crosshead K.K and Hewlett Packard Virtual Mall. 21 years old.

Comment: In this project I joined as an assistant planner, and added the idea of visual tricks to the original plan of sound collaboration space on the net by Mr. Ito.
