FORM

<http://www.c3.hu/hyper3/form/>

A project by Alexei Shulgin in which he proposes a new form of art - "Form Art".

This new art form is based on the Internet technology and gives to an artist new possibilities for self-expression. The web site devoted to Form Art consists of numerous Form Art images and animations as well as other examples of Form Art implementations.

The site is open for contribution and discussion and hopefully will become an international center for development and research of this form of art.

The project has been produced in cooperation with C3, Budapest
