

Luigi Ceccarelli

biographical details

Born in Rimini, Italy, in 1953. Completed his musical studies at the "Conservatorio G. Rossini" of Pesaro.

Since 1970 he has worked as a composer using the most advanced technologies. A fundamental part of his work is tied to the coreography of Lucia Latour and the Altroteatro Dance Company with whom he has collaborated since 1970s.

In addition he is founder of "EdiSon" studio, the new Computer Music Center in Rome.

He is also professor of Electroacoustic Music at the Conservatory of Perugia and he is active as a sound engineer in many festivals and with various ensembles.

His recordings and scores are published by BMG-Ariola, New Tone and Edipan. In 1996 he is winner of the prize for electroacoustic music with live instruments at the "23me Concours International de Bourges".