

Vitae

John Clyne

John Clyne is a member of the Visualization Group in the Scientific Computing Division of the National Center for Atmospheric Research (NCAR). Clyne holds a B.S. and M.S. in Computer Science from the University of Colorado, Boulder. Clyne manages NCAR's Visualization Laboratories. Clyne's professional interests include volume visualization of large geo-science datasets, applications of Virtual Reality to scientific visualization, and distributed visualization.

Don Middleton

Don Middleton leads the Visualization Group in the Scientific Computing Division of the National Center for Atmospheric Research (NCAR). He holds a B.S. and M.S. in Electrical and Computer Engineering from Louisiana State University. Don's professional interests include visual supercomputing for the atmospheric sciences, distributed visualization, animation, and digital video. Email: don@ncar.ucar.edu.

Karl Reinig

Karl Reinig received his bachelors in ME in 79 from Arizona State University, his MS in EE from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 84, and his Ph.D in EE from the University of Maryland in 89. He is currently developing 3-D visual and haptic interfaces for a variety of anatomical simulators.